Why Choose Creative Industry

Design is not just about the way things look, it is also about the way they work. Design creates value and contributes to competitiveness, prosperity, and well-being of a nation. India is poised for growth in almost all the fields and it is increasingly expected to compete globally in delivery of goods and services as per international standards. Design is being looked upon as the key aspect in making India competitive. With a view to respond to this need through education, training and research RIMT School of Design has been established at Mandi Gobindgarh, Punjab.
