Objective and outcome of course:

This paper focuses on the study of that area of law that deals with a category of intangible rights protecting commercially valuable products of the human intellect and the protection granted to creators of innovative intellectual creations. IP (Intellectual Property) rights are vital to the success of a business or brand. There are laws that protect owners of IP, mostly in the form of patents, copyrights, and trademarks. However, violation of the terms of these protections can lead to misappropriation and unfair competition.
